The Kohler Story

A RICH HISTORY

Our history is one of invention. A pioneering spirit of ingenuity has defined KOHLER Co. from its earliest days when John Michael Kohler launched a global plumbing company with a cast-iron horse trough turned bathtub!

Since 1873, KOHLER has evolved to bring the spirit of gracious living to a global market. From kitchen and bath to power, from decorative products to five-star hospitality, our products and services are on display in showrooms, iconic properties and households worldwide.

LIVING ON THE LEADING EDGE OF DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY

A singular level of exceptional quality. It's the guiding principle that KOHLER Co. has been founded upon. Because of this commitment, we are constantly making breakthroughs, from single products to overall kitchen and bathroom solutions. KOHLER continuously enriches its product line, integrated outstanding design, innovative technology and creative artistic inspiration.

KOHLER has long been one of the most recognised brands around the world. In 2016, Fortune Magazine named KOHLER one of the 25 Most Important Private Companies, citing KOHLER's "highly influential" impact on kitchen and bathroom design. KOHLER brings not only the fashionable and artistic side to bathing products, but also the experience of gracious living

Englefield by KOHLER

In 2000, Kohler USA purchased Englefield, a New Zealand owned company that was distributed throughout Australasia, and other parts of Asia. Englefield is well recognised for many pioneering designs over their nearly 40 years of manufacture - including developing fully sealed acrylic showers, popular in areas with timber based housing and humid environments like New Zealand, Tasmania & Queensland.

Under the governance of Kohler, Englefield have continued to innovate and deliver bathroom solutions for the family, offering high standards of product quality at an affordable price. Englefield, to this day still remains the leading bathroom brand in New Zealand.

WASTE EQUALS OPPORTUNITY.

KOHLER announced its Net Zero 2035 policy in 2008 – a commitment to send no solid waste to landfills, reduce water usage each year and offset 100% of its greenhouse gas emissions, all by the year 2035.

WASTELAB

In 2013, at the company's annual Innovation for Good event, the idea for the KOHLER WasteLAB was conceived.

This initiative initially focused attention on its landfill-bound pottery cull – essentially broken pieces from its toilet-making process – and how it could be re-purposed into something both beautiful and useful.

After the clay is pressed, WasteLAB artisans hand-cut each tile, remove the excess and apply an interactive glaze. The result is a delicate crackle glaze and deep, rich colour in a variety of tile shapes and sizes.

The KOHLER WasteLAB is currently exploring ways of recycling spent foundry sand, waste glaze and enamel powder and foundry dust that is made up of fine particles of sand, coal, clay, grinding dust and rust.

PRODUCING ENERGY

Looking to alternate energy sources will help us reach our goal of NetZero greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions by 2035. One such source is solar energy. Our Spartanburg, South Carolina, facility averages 225 days of sunshine each year.

More than 4,000 panels produce 1,000 kilowatts of power for the plant. Thanks to the panels, we can reduce the amount of power supplied by our utility by 9%. In Beijing, nearly 650 solar panels generate 170,000 kilowatt hours of energy per year.

The electricity needs of all of KOHLER's US and Canadian operations will be met by wind farms in Kansas. Known for its open plains and strong winds, Kansas is an ideal location for generating wind energy.

SAFE WATER

One-third of the world's population lives without safe water, a situation KOHLER finds unacceptable. The company partnered with the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation's Safe Drinking Water Campaign to develop a water filtration system called KOHLER Clarity.

Each Clarity unit filters out more than 99% of bacteria and protozoa, providing up to 40 litres of safe water daily – enough clean drinking water for a family of four. Given the incidence of water-borne illnesses can be reduced by 45% through safe drinking water – the KOHLER Clarity is a life-changing development.

The KOHLER Clarity units are lightweight and easily transportable with low-cost replaceable filters that can clean up to 5000 litres of water.
